ISDS Board of Directors
Roles and Responsibilities

Summary
The Board of Directors acts as the governing body of the International Society for Disease Surveillance and takes responsibility for the organization's adherence to the ISDS mission and values. In upholding these responsibilities, the Board establishes overall long and short-term goals, objectives, and priorities for ISDS and provides oversight for the business of the society. It exercises fiduciary oversight for the organization. Working with the ISDS staff, committees, and membership, the Board ensures that all programming and services further the goals of advancing the science and practice of public health surveillance.
